

HALPIN WINNER OF
SUBURBAN QUARTERBoston Man Takes Feature at Knights of St. Antony Games
Despite Adversities.

MEET LATE IN STARTING

Twenty-three Start in Walking
Race; All Disqualified but Two.

Tom Halpin of Boston safely anchored for another year the massive bronze presented by the Knights of St. Antony for the Suburban Quarter by beating a field of six in the Forty-seventh Regiment Armory last night under discouraging circumstances that seemed to be skillfully maneuvered to handicap the victor. The former national champion of the United States defeated among others Jack Tredder champion of Canada, at the distance, and what was more to the point, Jim Rosenberg of the Irish American A. C., who with two legs on the trophy only needed another victory to claim it for his own property.

The race was the feature of the Knights of St. Antony games, which attracted a crowd that filled every seat in the capacious armory and left hundreds struggling with marshes for vantage points on the floor. A delay in the delivery of the program postponed the opening of the games until 9 o'clock, and little effort seemed to be made to make up time, so that it was close on 11:30 when the pistol cracked, sending the men away for the big noise of the night.

Halpin came on to the floor about 10 o'clock and about an hour later the men were called to their marks. It was well known at the time that all or nearly all of the men were wearing spikes, but no warning was given that they would not be allowed until the start. The men were sent back to get new shoes, the idea being that Halpin might not be able to equip himself with the flat soled variety. He did get a pair, but they were far too big and constituted handicap No. 1.

When the men lined up De Gruchy of the New York A. C. had the pole, Rosenberg was next, then came Halpin with Tredder, the Canadian champion, on his right. W. De Gruchy of the Knights of St. Antony occupied the gap between the two Canadians, Hector Phillips of Toronto being on the outside. The men had been crowded for the start, and De Gruchy and Phillips went over the line and both were penalized three yards.

The next time the men set themselves the starter appeared to be in a bad way, and the men were on their feet. De Gruchy and Phillips were on their feet, and the starter was on his feet. The men were on their feet, and the starter was on his feet. The men were on their feet, and the starter was on his feet.

With De Gruchy set back Rosenberg began to stride, and he grabbed, while the others closed in on Halpin and left him last as the men rounded the first turn with the Irish American in the lead. De Gruchy was second, followed by Tredder, and then Halpin, who was running alone with him, ranged alongside of Rosenberg before 100 yards had been covered. As the men rounded the bottom turn Rosenberg led, followed by De Gruchy, and then Halpin, who was running alone with him, ranged alongside of Rosenberg before 100 yards had been covered.

Halpin began to go great guns in the next stretch and almost exactly at half distance he rushed by De Gruchy. Rosenberg was last by this time, and in trying to take the corner went down and out. The Bostonian opened a gap immediately and the race was over so far as the other men were concerned. The gallant De Gruchy was hanging on well in spite of his early pace and only one man, Gough of the St. Antony tried to overtake him. Gough cut the lead down to a yard before De Gruchy and ten yards behind Halpin. The time 53.5 seconds, was slow due to the handicaps mentioned.

A revolution in judgment in the evening brought consternation to the shufflers who have been allowed to go their own peculiar paths all winter. Herman Rosenberg was the official who at last developed the fearlessness required to reform this branch of sport. The result was that of the twenty-three entries in the one mile walk all were disqualified except two, and no fault could be found with the style of this pair.

T. Maroney, who won, took the lead soon after the start, and his gait varied little. He had a safe and steady pace, and he was not out of the lead until he was within a few yards of the finish. He was not out of the lead until he was within a few yards of the finish. He was not out of the lead until he was within a few yards of the finish.

Lippincott and Meredith Help in Victory—Sheppard's Fast Quarter.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—In the special one mile college relay race at the Meadow Brook Club games to-night at Convention Hall between Pennsylvania and Cornell the Red and Blue romped in a winner over the big Red team from Ithaca.

The race was the feature of the games until 9 o'clock, and little effort seemed to be made to make up time, so that it was close on 11:30 when the pistol cracked, sending the men away for the big noise of the night.

COMISKY REGAINS HEALTH.

Says in Telegram That He is Well and Will Arrive on Schedule.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Charles Comiskey, president of the Chicago American League baseball club, has recovered from the illness which attacked him in Rome, and will arrive in New York on schedule time, according to a cablegram received in this city.

The telegram was sent to John T. Connerly of Chicago, by Mr. Comiskey from Paris last night. Mr. Connerly is stopping at a local hotel, and the message was forwarded to him here. It reads: "Perfectly well. With the help of God and the Louisiana, will take off our hats to the Statue of Liberty on March 6."

Mr. Connerly said that he had believed all along that the reports of Mr. Comiskey's illness had been exaggerated.

CORNELL PUBLICATION
CONFIRMS BAD RUMORS

"Sportsmanship, Where Art Thou Gone?" Is Conclusion of Hot Criticism.

Columbia basketball enthusiasts received balm for their feelings when copies of the Cornell Sun were circulated about the campus yesterday. It had been said that Cornell had been exceptionally honest in its treatment of the Cornell team, but this was thought to be the cry of the team so overwhelmingly defeated.

It was asserted that Capt. Bert Halsted of the big Red team was continually jerking Danny Meenan's injured shoulder, and that this was the reason the Blue and White leader closed Halsted under the bleachers in order to avenge him. Harry Fisher, the Columbia coach, said, however, the referee had not officiated in two years and was away off form in gauging Kid Benson's plays. The Cornell Sun said of the battle:

"The action of the crowd at the Columbia game was a disgrace to the university. The scene resembled more a vacant lot baseball fight than a league game at a supposedly higher institution of learning. We did not realize there were so many nuckers to the square foot in Ithaca; and supposedly good Cornellians sat back and weakly let them do their worst."

"If a referee is not competent the management and the coach will take care of him. While he is doing his honest best he is our guest and should be treated as such. As to the tactics of either team visiting or home, the referee will take care of them."

"To have biased the referee, to have biased the opposing team and to have cheered a man when he was removed from the floor for rough work—Cornell sportsmanship, where art thou gone?"

Coming so soon after the game with Union, where rough work predominated, the Cornell team was at home and easily beat Watford, 3-0, so remains runner up. Bristol Rovers move up a couple of pegs from the bottom of the table by winning their home game with Coventry City, 3-2. All the leading clubs

THIRD ROUND OF CUP
TIE EXCITES ENGLANDFifty Thousand See Feature of Day Result in Victory

BATTLE A DESPERATE ONE

West Bromwich Albion Falls,
but Only by Margin of 2 to 1.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, Feb. 21.—With the third round of the English cup ties set for decision to-day, intense excitement prevailed throughout the country. The star attraction was the meeting of the two famous Birmingham clubs, Aston Villa and West Bromwich Albion, on the ground of the former. Over 50,000 supporters of the teams packed the ground and saw Aston Villa win a desperate game by 2 to 1.

Two games were played in London. West Ham United drawing with Liverpool 1 to 1, while Millwall was knocked out easily by Sheffield United, 4 to 0, which caused a big surprise, especially after putting two strong first division clubs out of the running in the earlier rounds. Queen's Park Rangers did splendidly to beat Birmingham 2 to 1 away from home and now are looked upon as the hope of the South. The results:

Aston Villa 2, West Bromwich Albion 1; Millwall 0, Sheffield United 4; West Ham United 1, Liverpool 1; Burnley 1, Bolton Wanderers 1; Derby County 1, Everton 1; Newcastle United 0, Oldham Athletic 1.

In the first division of the Association Football League only two games were down to be played, so the table remains unchanged from last week, with one exception. Oldham Athletic by drawing its away game with Newcastle United jumps to third place. Derby County entertained Everton and by beating them 1 to 0 picked up two valuable points. The results:

Derby County 1, Everton 0; Newcastle United 0, Oldham Athletic 1. Notts County again further widened the gap at the top of the second division by winning its home game with Stockport County, 2-1, as Woolwich Arsenal came a cropper at Lincoln, losing by the big margin of 5-2 to the City team. Their chances of promotion, which at one time looked so rosy, gradually are fading away, and their big defeat today greatly surprised Londoners. The City teams of Hull and Leeds had a battle royal on the ground of the former, which ended in each side scoring once. Bradford, after recent failure, appears to have gained a new lease of life, and visiting Fulham, overwhelmed the latter, 6-1. Notts Forest again drops to last place in the table by losing its last game with Watford, 2-1. The results:

Huddersfield 1, Grimsby Town 2; Lincoln City 1, Woolwich Arsenal 2; Blackpool 2, 3 to 1; Forest 1, 2 to 1; Notts County 1, Stockport County 1; Leicester Forest 1, Gillingham 1; Hull City 1, Leeds City 1; Burnley 1, Bristol City 1; Fulham 1, 2 to 1.

Cup tie fever was at a high pitch in Scotland today, as the third round ties were set for decision, entirely taking the place of league football. The all conquering Celtic team had an easy task, and put Forfar Athletic out of the running by 5-0, but the Rangers caused a big surprise by losing their away game with Hibernians, 2-1. The results:

JIM RICE DENIES HE IS COPYING POP COURTNEY"I Don't Know Everything, but It's Too Late Now to Begin Mimicking," He Declares.

Jim Rice, the Columbia crew mentor, denied yesterday that he would limit the Blue and White oarsmen to the Poughkeepsie regatta and a triangular meet at Carnegie Lake with Penn and Princeton as the other contestants. It was said Rice agreed with Pop Courtney, the Cornell rower, that only one race a year was enough for a college crew. Jim made it plain that he followed no example set by Courtney and agreed with him in nothing. "I've been coaching twenty-three years," he said, "and while I don't profess to know everything, I think it is too late now to start mimicking Courtney's policies. Columbia crews will work lightly simply because they can't stand a heavier schedule. If I had a crew averaging 175 pounds it would row a good race every few weeks. I hope to get a few more two mile races. If the committee on athletics will stand for them. Two mile races speed up a crew without sapping its stamina."

"A lot of critics said my crew went stale last year. If it did then it was because it was never fresh. On form last season's crew was the best Columbia has had in years, but it did not have the necessary weight or leg drive to carry over three miles. This season's crew will be up to standard, despite the fact that I have only twenty-one men to experiment with for two slight oared boats."

"At a recent undergraduate smoker for the purpose of stirring interest in rowing Mr. Bogue at a rather exciting moment asked how many men were coming out for crew. Out of the thousand spectators not one man who was not out already for a seat in one of the boats stood up. Dr. Meylan told them that the belief that new work resulted often in failure or tuberculosis was absolutely unfounded. He has made over a hundred experiments and found each case to be an actual benefit to the physique of the participants. One man said rowing hurt him, and he lived to be 65 years old. There is only one malady that a crew man can die from and that is cold feet. We've found no cases among Columbia men."

The Gloucester Club concert held at the Brooklyn Academy of Music last Wednesday night made over a thousand dollars. The proceeds will be turned over to the Columbia University A. A. with the understanding that it shall be spent for the promotion of rowing.
